MAIN BODY OF CHINESE SOLDIERS SCATTERED

Japanese Believe Sudden Thrust Has Overcome Major Resistance

MOPPING UP OF REBELS PROCEEDING

TSITSIHAR, Manchuria, Dec. 1 (AP).—Japanese headquarters expressed belief today their sudden thrust yesterday toward the Great Khingan Mountains had scattered the major Chinese resistance and that the Japanese forces would thus be able to advance toward Peking with little opposition.

The Japanese army yesterday started a movement to mop up Chinese rebel forces under General Su Ping-Wen, who had established himself west of Khingan Mountains around the city of Manchuli.

SCATTERED AND FLEE
Details of Wednesday's offensive are lacking owing to a lack of communications, but it is known the main body of troops under Chang Tien-Chu, a lieutenant of General Su, was scattered and fled when Japanese cavalry and motorized infantry swooped overland and surprised them. The Chinese troop force was estimated at 3,000 men.

Casualties on both sides were believed to be slight, inasmuch as Chinese resistance was feeble, because they were surprised, and second because Chang Tien-Chu is known to favor peaceful settlement of differences with the Japanese.

HOLDING HOSTAGES
General Su Ping-Wen captured 300 Japanese as hostages when he took over the Manchuli area and he still holds 150 of them. Japanese hope to liberate them during the present campaign.

The attack was launched in a temperature of 13 below zero Fahrenheit, on plains heavily blanketed with snow.

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Dec. 1 (AP).—Japanese forces set out on the frozen, snow-covered plains of Northwest Manchuria, today, in an announced effort to wipe out the Chinese rebel forces under General Su Ping-Wen, even though the lives of 150 Japanese hostages may be jeopardized.

THE OBJECTIVE
The objective of the Japanese will be the recapture of almost one-fourth of Manchuria, lying against the Soviet border, and the annihilation of forces allied with the Japanese, numbering probably 30,000.

FUGITIVE STILL ELUDING POLICE

Escaped Convict Twice Seen Near Pentiction—Believed Injured

A twenty-four-hour man hunt in wooded country by British Columbia police officers had failed early today in locating Robert Cross, ex-convict and fugitive from justice, who late Wednesday afternoon made a daring and successful leap to freedom through a railway car window near Carmi, while being brought here by two officers to serve a one-year prison term for breaking jail at Nelson last week.

The train had just left Carmi, when Cross, although in leg irons, suddenly kicked the glass of the window out and dived through it. In two minutes the train was stopped, but no trace of Cross could be found.

REPORTED SEEN TWICE
Police wireless sets cracked busily all afternoon, with reports to the headquarters of the force here. At 1:30 p.m. the authorities were informed from Pentiction that Cross had been seen in the neighborhood, where he is alleged to have taken a speeder and headed eastward towards Rock Creek, still in leg irons.

At 4 p.m. another wireless message said Cross had again been seen, this time apparently exhausted and bleeding. The second report came also from Pentiction.

With night closing down fast, the race became a battle with time. Numbers of men have taken up the chase, and the recapture of Cross is believed imminent.

SAYS SACRIFICE NOT UNEQUALLED

LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP).—The London war debts note released to night said Great Britain asks no greater sacrifice from the United States than she herself has made.

Britain advanced loans to her allies in the Great War which reached four-fifths of the total lent by the United States. The Washington Government has received $434,000,000 (ordinarily about $2,100,000,000), the note mentions while Britain has received nothing.

CARDINAL BOURNE ILL
LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP).—Word from Rome today said Francis Cardinal Bourne of Westminster was seriously ill there.

Stormy Weather Delays Start of Air Mail Service

EDMONTON, Dec. 1. — Stormy weather in the North today delayed the first air mail flight from here to Lake Louise, but Pilot H. Hollick-Kenyon and Walter Gilbert, of Canadian Airways, expect to make an early start from McMurray tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile, 39,000 first-flight letters from all over Canada and the United States, which were sent up to McMurray by rail, have been loaded into the machines.

NAZI AGAIN SEEKS POST

Hitler Renews Demand to Be Made Chancellor—President Is Silent

BERLIN, Dec. 1 (AP).—In another letter to President von Hindenburg today, Adolf Hitler, Nazi chieftain, renewed his demand that he be made Chancellor.

The request, however, failed to end a fifteen-day Cabinet crisis, although Hitler gave the Chancellorship as the price he would exact for his cooperation with the national concentration Cabinet.

Meanwhile, Franz von Papen, who resigned the Chancellorship last month, and Gen. von Schleicher, regarded by the press as the sole candidate for the post, conferred today.

REPORT ON SCOUTING
It was understood they told each other about the results of their political scouting expeditions during the last few days.

Both of them subsequently entered Von Hindenburg's study for a report.

The newspapers gave prominence to the probable selection of Von Schleicher by the President. Von Hindenburg continued to keep his own counsel in the matter.

MAY POSTPONE B.C. SESSION

Conflict With Ottawa Conference Occasions Revision of Plans

Prospects of a January session of the Provincial Legislature lessened today when the Federal Government invited the British Columbia Cabinet to send delegates to a national-provincial conference, to be held at Ottawa on January 17 to discuss issues of vital importance to the provinces. Premier Tolmie received the invitation by wire from R. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

The Premier stated that while British Columbia would be represented at the conference, whenever it was held, fixing of the date at "January 17" would conflict with present plans for the closing session of the present Legislature. In view of the fact that matters of great importance to British Columbia were due to be discussed at the Ottawa gathering, the Government might have to postpone prospective plans for the opening of the session, he intimated.

IMPORTANT MEETING
As already announced in the East, the Ottawa intergovernmental conference on the problem of unemployment relief and discussion of contributory unemployment insurance; Federal and provincial income tax matters, and other issues of first rank importance to all provinces.

The income tax issue alone would be considered by British Columbia as a subject of such importance that everything else would be stayed rather than postpone discussion of this question.

SESSION OPENING
Unofficial estimates of the opening of the British Columbia Legislature had placed this about the middle of January, or at some date between that and the end of the month. If these estimates are correct, Hon. J. W. Jones, and other provincial officials, who unquestionably would be required at any Federal conference on fiscal issues, would be in the middle of budget preparation for the coming British Columbia session.

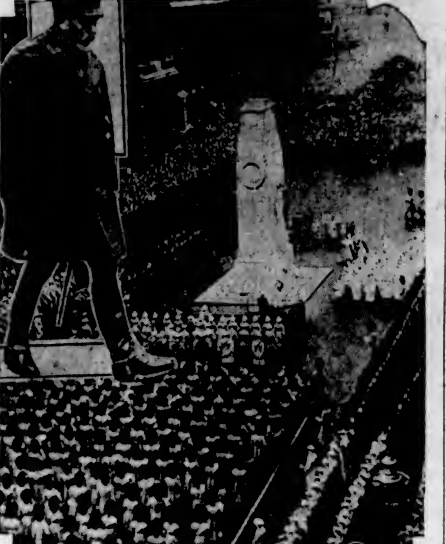

While official statement is lacking, it is anticipated that the Government will either try to negotiate for a different date for the Federal gathering, or else will simply take action to postpone the date of the session here until February. Even if the House should not meet until February, there would still be time for the session, and an election to follow some time during the fine weather, possibly in July.

Champion Steer Beef Is Costly

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Show—Texas Special—went to the slaughter block today, at a price of $12.50 a pound.

The price represented an advance of 5 cents a pound over that brought by last year's grand champion at the exposition, and compared with 8 cents a pound for prime steers on the Chicago livestock market.

Britain Honors War Dead

A SOLEMN scene at the Cenotaph to Great Britain's war dead during the Armistice Day ceremonies in London. Thousands of citizens, soldiers, statesmen, clergy, and the entire royal family of Great Britain stood in reverent silence around the huge memorial in one of London's main thoroughfares. Inset is King George, in his uniform of honorary field-marshal in the British Army, as he walked to his carriage after the ceremonies.

Shopping Enlivened By "Living Music" of Band and Orchestra

Popular Innovation Sponsored by Daily Colonist Draws Crowds of Christmas Shoppers to Downtown Area—Happy Spirit Prevails

TO an entirely new accompaniment Victoria yesterday morning awakened, tore the November page from the calendar, and set about its Christmas shopping. The innovation of "Living Music Day," sponsored by The Daily Colonist in co-operation with the Musicians' Union and merchants of the city, was the prompting spirit which bestirred the public so simultaneously, and lured shoppers by the thousand into the gaily-lighted stores where, to the accompaniment of band or orchestral music, they experienced a new delight in the old routine of searching for presents to hang on the Christmas tree.

"A splendid idea! Wakes the old place when the people makes forget to worry and stimulates business!" declared one of the leading merchants of the city as he was closing the door last evening after bidding good-bye to a lingering last bevy of customers who had been drawn inside an hour previously by the sound of spirited "living" music.

Actual figures as to the effect on the stimulus to shopping were not available anywhere, but a personal call was made by a Colonist representative at practically all the stores where music was scheduled to take place, and they unanimously approved the experiment. Two or three merchants so heartily endorsed it that they declared their intention of staging a similar programme independently next year if the organizers of this year's "Living Music Day" did not repeat it.

"Weather notwithstanding," beamed another leading merchant as he nodded agreement to a statement that Victoria seemed to be enjoying shopping to music. Certainly the weather was inclement, but the novel interest of the day overbore the rain, and from opening hours until closing time a steady stream of shoppers poured through the downtown stores and gave an unwonted air of activity to shops, streets, street cars and buses.

A majority of the stores closed for the occasion. Spencer's greeted its customers with a complete transformation without doors and within. Portcoats of fragrant cedar and fir, spun with silver and hung with lighted stars, transformed the street.

CENTENARIAN DIES
ST. NORBERT, Man., Dec. 1 (CP).—Mrs. Alex. C. La Mure died here, aged 100 years. Born in St. Norbert, she had lived in St. Pierre, Manitoba, for thirty years, and returned here to spend her last years.

THREATENS STRIKES AND BOYCOTS, IF NECESSARY, TO WIN SHORTER WORK WEEK
CINCINNATI, Dec. 1 (AP).—Vicious, almost boisterous, approval was given today by organized labor of the United States to its President's proposal to use "economic force"—strikes and boycotts—should all other methods fail to win unemployment insurance and the thirty-hour week.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared "we will draw up the line of battle and carry the struggle to the doors of industry until the jobless are given jobs."

The convention, on the recommendation of the resolutions committee, adopted a declaration of "unilateral hostility" to Communism and against "every activity of organized Communism."

The declaration also opposed any recognition by the United States Government of the Communist regime at Moscow.

U.S. LABOR PLANS ECONOMIC FORCE

Collections During November Total $45,481 as Against $23,279 in Corresponding Period in 1931—Taken as Sign of Restored Confidence

COLLECTION of current and arrears of taxes last month more than doubled the collections during the same month last year, thus strengthening the forecast by Mayor David Leeming of a cash balanced budget at the end of the year, it was learned at the City Hall yesterday.

According to figures compiled by D. A. Macdonald, comptroller, $45,481 was collected in November as compared with $23,279 for the same month of 1931.

A total of $29,128 was collected last month in current general tax accounts as against $14,930 in November, 1931. The collections of one-year-old arrears, however, were smaller, the total being $3,909 as against $5,029 last year. Two-year-old tax arrears were paid to the total of $12,446 last month as compared with $4,228.

This report was received by the mayor as one of the most encouraging signs of the times. It not only revealed that the citizens

DEATH TAKES F. M. PRESTON

City Engineer Passes Away in Less Than Day After Seizure

F. M. Preston, city engineer and water commissioner, passed away in the Jubilee Hospital shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, following paralysis brought about by a hemorrhage of the brain early yesterday morning.

On Tuesday Mr. Preston had complained of severe headaches and was forced to remain at home. At 4 a.m. Wednesday he lapsed into unconsciousness and was taken to the hospital, there to receive medical treatment by Dr. Hermann Robertson. He never regained consciousness.

His widow and young daughter Daphne were at the hospital the greater part of the day, anxiously awaiting the outcome, but as the hours past hope for his recovery diminished.

WAS VALUABLE SERVANT
Mayor David Leeming, when informed of his death this morning, was shocked. "We have lost a valuable public servant," he said, "and one who was held in high esteem by his colleagues in the City Hall and on the City Council."

"He was of a shy, retiring disposition and courteous manner. He was considered as one of the foremost municipal engineers on this Coast and many of his improvements and inventions were adopted as standard works."

"It was with the deepest regret that I receive this news and convey to the family my sincere condolence," Mr. Preston was born in Cornwall.

FIVE PERISH IN EXPLOSION

Seventeen Escape From Nova Scotia Coal Mine—Spark Blamed

RIVER HEBERT, N.S., Dec. 1 (CP).—For the third time in two years sudden death shot down on the Cumberland County coal field today. Caught in the grip of exploding gas, five men dropped where they stood. They lay huddled over their tools when rescuers fought their way through poison fumes and found them in a shaft of Maple Leaf colliery number four.

The dead are: Ezra Murray, twenty-three, unmarried; Charles F. LeMay, married, with wife and several children; Dan Boudreau, twenty-eight, one child; William Machey, forty, widow and two children; and LeBlanc, twenty-two, married, one child.

NO DEFINITE CAUSE
No definite cause for the explosion had been ascribed tonight, though seventeen men were escaped, believed a spark from a fan motor had exploded the seeping vapor.

The tragedy brought the total of this district's past victims to eighteen in a little more than two years.

Hundreds gathered around the pithead where the victims were being raised to the surface. Tearful women and children, relatives of the dead men, surrounded the entrance and pathetic scenes enacted as they recognized the bodies.

Paraguay Complains To League

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Dec. 1 (AP).—The Government complained to the League of Nations today that Bolivian planes had bombed Iquitos Hospital, where ill and wounded Bolivian prisoners are included among the patients.

The complaint also set forth that the Bolivian forces had used machine guns on Boqueron Hospital, where volunteers from Argentina are serving as Red Cross workers.

FOUND BIT OF SKULL WITH BULLET HOLE

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1 (CP).—A resident of West Tenth Avenue today, while walking in the bush near Sixteenth Avenue and Sasamat Street, near the spot where the remains of Frederick Colium was found on June 24 by J. W. Foster, found a piece of a skull in which there was a bullet hole. The skull bone was turned over to Provincial Police, who believe it to be part of Colium's remains.

MEXICAN COLD WAVE TAKES SEVEN LIVES

SIGNIFICANT WARNING GIVEN IN BRITAIN'S WAR DEBT NOTE

Premiers to Meet On January 17 to Discuss Insurance

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP).—Tuesday, January 17, has been fixed definitely as the date for the opening of the Dominion-provincial conference on unemployment and allied problems. Official announcement to this effect was made by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett this evening.

Contributory social insurance will be one of the major subjects on the agenda.

REEVE SEEKS RE-ELECTION

William Crouch Announces Candidature for Seventh Term in Saanich

Reeve William Crouch will seek seventh successive term as able magistrate in Saanich, at the municipal elections next January. He announced his candidature following the council meeting last night, and appealed to members of the board for their endorsement. He will be opposed at the polls by Charles H. French, retired fur commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company, who stated some time ago he would be a candidate.

The reeve's statement was the result of a private meeting which the council held when asked to consider endorsing him as a candidate in the interest of Saanich ratepayers. Three weeks ago, members of the council were given letters in which the reeve stated he was willing to withdraw his name providing any councillor would undertake to run for the vacancy.

FORECASTS DIFFICULTIES
The matter was brought to the board's attention last night when he told his colleagues that next year would be a difficult one in Saanich, and would require an experienced man as reeve. "If the council thinks it in the best interests of Saanich, I will run," Reeve Crouch said, "as I believe the problems for next year's reeve and council will be much more difficult than at present."

Following this the reeve and press representatives were asked to withdraw, while the matter was considered. After a little more than three-quarters of an hour discussion, the reeve was called in, being followed half an hour later by press representatives, who were given the following statement, which had been given to the reeve:

"In reply to your letter, members of the council appreciate the able manner in which you have conducted the affairs of the municipality, and you have our assurance that we will do our best to assist you to contest the reevehip."

ENDORSEMENT DEFERRED
Definite endorsement of the reeve's candidature for re-election was deferred by members of the council, who it is believed, did not wish to offer their unanimous support to any particular contestant, but would leave it to the electorate.

After this statement, the reeve made it clear to the press that he would be in the field again seeking re-election to the post which he has held for six years.

WRECK OF TUG TOOK ONE LIFE

Body of Vancouver Man Recovered From Beach at Texada Island

Washed up on the shores of Texada Island, the body of Norman Sumner, formerly of 1414 Broadway East, Vancouver, was identified yesterday, according to reports reaching the headquarters of the Provincial Police. Sumner, who leaves a widow and two boys, aged ten and twelve, in Vancouver, was lost when a steam tug foundered in the Gulf of Georgia on September 11.

Two other men were saved, John Ullinder and George W. McInnes, both of Vancouver. After considerable hardships the two men were rescued on a beach, where they lit a fire and later attracted the attention of passing vessels.

The body of Sumner was identified yesterday from clothing and other effects.

SLAPPED SON AND KILLED HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1 (CP).—Mrs. Bertha Berger, thirty-two, shot and fatally wounded her husband, Herman Berger, thirty-four, here today, police said, as a result of a quarrel over a slap administered to their twelve-year-old son at a marriage dance last night.

Mrs. Berger, after her arrest, was quoted by police as declaring she slapped her son while they were watching dancers because the child failed to obey a request.

Police said Mrs. Berger told them the father protested the slapping and left in anger and did not return to his home until 10 o'clock this morning. The woman, police said, asserted her husband, on coming home, declared he was going "to find other lodgings," and that the remark caused her "to see red."

She ran to the rear room, police quoted her as saying, and secured a small rifle, returned and shot her husband in the back of the head. The son, Robert, was at school at the time.

The note follows the United States' negative reply to the first British request for suspension of the payment due on December 15, which is of $95,800,000, including principal of $30,000,000. It makes no actual declaration whether in the event of insistence by the United States, the payment will be met, although it points out payment would distract exchanges at the present time.

PROFOUND CONVICTION
"His Majesty's Government trusts that the full statement of their views which they have now made will demonstrate clearly," the note concludes, "the ground upon which their request was based, namely their own profound conviction that a resumption of the war debt payments as they existed before the Hoover moratorium would inevitably deepen the depression in world trade and would lead to further falls in commodity prices with disastrous consequences from which no nation would be exempt."

It stresses appreciation of the United States' intention to suspend the debt payments, but points out that suspension of the impending payments is essential if this re-examination is to take place in a proper atmosphere.

TAXPAYERS' BURDEN
Special attention is paid to the United States' declaration that suspension of payments at this time would mean thrusting the burden on the United States taxpayer. The brief and uncolored recital of the British taxpayers' efforts will probably come as a surprise to the American public, which, it is felt, has been inclined to believe that, if the war debts were canceled, the British taxpayer would emerge on an even keel, if not actually in pocket.

The reference to restriction of imports from the United States is well down in the note. It points out that consequent on the United States' tariff the United Kingdom's power to send goods to America has diminished, and the total trade of two countries has been seriously reduced.

WOULD BE UNPLEASANT
Resumption of the war debt payments would necessitate the United Kingdom taking measures to restrict imports of United States goods, especially of farm products, the note denounces. It says it would be unpleasant for the United States to be asked to restrict its exports to the United Kingdom, which is America's best customer the results "could not fail to be unpleasant."

The intervention of both the United States and Great Britain, the note stresses, lie in co-operation for a

FRENCH CABINET APPROVES NOTE

Premier Herriot Wins Vote of Confidence on Loan Conversions

PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP).—Premier Edouard Herriot sent the new French request for postponement of the $20,000,000 interest payment due the United States December 15, to Ambassador Paul Claudet, in Washington, tonight. The document will be delivered to Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, tomorrow morning.

The note was approved at a Cabinet meeting today, over which President Albert Ledru presided. Its contents were not published officially tonight, but it was generally understood the main argument of the first French memorandum to Washington was another, namely, that postponement is necessary in the best interests of everyone.

Premier Herriot won a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies tonight on the Government's recent conversion of public loans, but his reported willingness to pay the American installment if Washington insists has raised the opposition of a large group of deputies.

REDISTRIBUTION IN B.C.

The Government of British Columbia is committed to the bringing down of another Redistribution Bill at the session which opens next month. A Bill was passed last session, but since then criticism has been voiced about it and in line with this the Government now proposes to reduce the present membership to thirty-two or thirty-six as compared with forty-eight as at present. The problem that now arises is the re-definition of electoral boundaries. It is one that is likely to arouse a lot of misgivings. Such boundaries, for provincial purposes, cannot be delimited in anything like the same manner as Dominion constituencies. That would mean most unfair discrimination against certain parts of the province in respect to their importance and resources.

For full and adequate representation in a Legislature of a province of this character it is obvious that if there is to be a reduction of one-third in the number of members of the Legislature then the chief cities will be expected to make sacrifices. In other words, they cannot expect to have even as proportionate a representation in the Legislature as they have at present. The best Victoria can hope for, under any equitable scheme on the basis of the reduction proposed, is two members. Vancouver must suffer in proportion, no matter how populated its area. The development of British Columbia's cities depends in large part on the development of the resources of the province as a whole. That means that the districts from which such development is expected must have adequate representation in the Legislature so that their interests may be fully protected.

Some inkling of the trend of thought in the less populated parts of the province is given in an article in The Okanagan Herald. In this the viewpoint is reiterated that under the scheme of redistribution that is proposed, Vancouver "must live and let live." In other words, the claim is made that the just demands of the pioneer, "who has given his all in the wide open spaces," deserve every whit as much consideration as those of the mass and class in a concentrated area. The article is specific in pointing out that "the last redistribution was fair and was an expression of the free will of the people's representatives." Any change now, within the space of a few months from the passing of that Bill, can only be construed as "the product of the dictation of Vancouver." This is an evidence of the sentiment which prevails in the Okanagan district where, rightly or wrongly, the opinion prevails that Vancouver is trying to dictate the course of provincial politics.

The writer in The Okanagan Herald has not a very high opinion of the consistency of public opinion in Vancouver. He draws attention to the P.G.E. and the University of British Columbia, both of which were built at the instance and demand of Vancouver, and yet, he says, "the same people today are lifting their hands to high heaven in condemnation of both institutions." He goes on to say that if they are permitted to dictate a new Redistribution Bill "it will only be a short time before they are denouncing that." The writer makes a most justifiable plea for those who are doing the pioneering work in the province. He says: "If British Columbia is ever to realize the hopes and ambitions that its people have it will only be through the energy and efforts of the pioneers who have braved the elements and hardships and adhere to no conventional hours or conditions save those that will bring prosperity. To deny them their inalienable rights of representation is but to stifle their ambitions and crush their energy."

PROHIBITION IN U.S.A.

It is taken for granted that the United States will abolish Prohibition as a result of the late presidential election. The course to be taken will be the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, but before this can be done three-fourths of the states must assent to such action. With the disappearance of the Eighteenth Amendment the necessity for and the power to enforce the Volstead Act would also be gone. Without abolishing the Eighteenth Amendment Congress could repeal the Volstead Act. It could amend it by changing the definition of intoxicating liquor. Probably a first step, before the individual states are consulted, will be to amend the Volstead Act so that it shall no longer include beer of less than a certain alcoholic content, and possibly that it shall no longer include wines having less than a certain alcoholic content.

That would be one way out of Prohibition without repealing the Eighteenth Amendment. That amendment declares unlawful the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor and gives the states concurrent power with Congress to enact enforcement laws. Whatever is done by Washington will not interfere with the power of a state to prohibit the manufacture, sale or distribution of intoxicating liquor within the confines of the state. Thus the situation is likely to give rise to a lot of complexities. Some states will probably remain dry, while others will get wet. Those dry will have to provide their own enforcement authority if the Volstead Act is repealed. The general belief is that, pending the proposed repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, action will be taken by Congress to repeal the Volstead Act. Such action would mean, in effect, that while the United States would remain nominally dry there would be no national Prohibition statute, because the dry law, as decreed in the Eighteenth Amendment, could not be enforced in a national sense although dry legislation might still be enforced in a number of states.

There is unlikely to be any great change in the situation in the United States within the next year. Possibly the Volstead Act will be amended. It is unlikely to be repealed for the time being. Until it is repealed it would be unlawful for liquors to be sold of high alcoholic content in any state. The changes immediately proposed are those affecting beer and wines. The present situation means that the different states will immediately become active in formulating and introducing legislation to provide for the time when the Volstead Act is repealed or when the Eighteenth Amendment goes by the board.

MANUSCRIPT OF "GUY MANNERING"

The disappearance of the manuscript of "Guy Mannerling" from the Avery Library of Columbia University is being investigated by the police of two continents. The theft happened over a month ago but the loss was kept secret for some time. The missing manuscript is a part of the Sir Walter Scott collection owned by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and lent by him for exhibition purposes to Columbia University. The remainder of the collection is the original manuscripts of "Ivanhoe" and "Waverley."

"Guy Mannerling" was written in six weeks. It is one of Sir Walter Scott's most famous novels depicting characters that have become immortal, such as Dandie Dinmont, Dominie Sampson, Meg Merrilies, Counsellor Playdell and Dick Hatter-alick. The novel is an instance of the speed of production of Sir Walter and the fertility of his genius. It was probably the attention concentrated on Scott in this his centenary year which led to the theft. How it can benefit the thief is not apparent. He cannot sell it, no matter how valuable it is, for there are millions of people on the outlook for its recovery. It may be that the document will be offered for ransom to Mr. Morgan when the thief considers that the time is ripe.

POLITICAL INTOLERANCE

Mr. de Valera is a stickler for pursuance of the mandate which he alleges the people of the Irish Free State gave him at the last election. Whatever that mandate was it was not one to bring economic ruin on the country, and that is the best Victoria can hope for, under any equitable scheme on the basis of the reduction proposed, is two members. Vancouver must suffer in proportion, no matter how populated its area. The development of British Columbia's cities depends in large part on the development of the resources of the province as a whole. That means that the districts from which such development is expected must have adequate representation in the Legislature so that their interests may be fully protected.

He says: "If British Columbia is ever to realize the hopes and ambitions that its people have it will only be through the energy and efforts of the pioneers who have braved the elements and hardships and adhere to no conventional hours or conditions save those that will bring prosperity. To deny them their inalienable rights of representation is but to stifle their ambitions and crush their energy."

JAPAN AND CHINA

The Chinese nation is fast going to pieces. Manchuria is already a separate state. Tibet has not only seceded, but has risen in arms against the elusive "Central Government" without a formal declaration of war. As a result of the recent negotiations in London, the Chinese troops have occupied Si Kank and the contiguous regions. A Tibetan Empire is being formed under the Dalai Lama. The provinces of Takien and Kiangsu have embraced Communism and set up for themselves under a Sovietist Government. Yunnan is semi-independent. The thriving Province of Szechuan is misgoverned by a junta of half-a-dozen rolicking generals, who recognize no authority but their own. In short, the unlovely State which occupies one-fourth of Asia (10.7 million square kilometers) is going to pieces and the Lytton report counsels Japan to help to prop it up.—Dr. E. J. Dillon, in The Fortnightly Review.

Note and Comment

By R. H. D.

As children gathering pebbles on the shore.—Milton.

A reader who prefers anonymity to publicity writes:

Dear R. H. D.—Your mention of the line of poetry which you consider so lovely, in your column, brings to my memory my mother's lovely soprano voice singing this song to us in our childhood days in the early '60's:

Before the bright sun rises over the hill,
In the cornfield poor Mary is seen,
Important for little blue eyes to fill
With the few scattered ears she can glean.

Here memory fails to recall the words, though the dainty air dwells in my memory. Nor can I remember the author. Can you help me? We cannot be of any help, but if any of the readers of The Colonist can we shall be pleased to publish the name of the author.

The price (and we trust, the value) of the pound sterling on the counters of the money changers is said to be the lowest on record. Although the price of wheat is not tied to the price of the pound, so far as we know, the price of wheat is said to be the lowest in four hundred years. In the hope of raising the price of wheat to a point in the neighborhood of the cost of production and keeping it there or a point or two higher, the wheat producers and dealers of the Canadian Prairies are moving for the formation of a world wheat pool.

The scheme may be feasible, but the creation and establishment of a world wheat pool obviously must take a little time and involve a considerable period of negotiation. The promoters of the comprehensive scheme appear to recognise this difficulty, as they have suggested a conference of representatives of all wheat-producing countries.

There are so many wheat-producing countries in the world, big and little, that the difficulties of the enterprise are obvious. The big wheat-producing countries of the world are comparatively few, but the countries which can produce wheat when circumstances warrant it are not a few. That fact was demonstrated when the price of wheat was about two dollars a bushel, and the producers of countries which need not be named formed pools and thought they could dictate to the British grain merchants, millers and consumers the prices they should pay for their daily bread.

So we fear that if the Prairie wheat growers were to succeed after prolonged negotiations in assembling a congress or a conference representative of all the big wheat-producing countries of the world, and that assembly were to pass resolutions declaring that a world wheat pool should be formed, and each country should be limited to the production of a given number of bushels of wheat, the problem of a "living profit" for all wheat growers would not be completely solved. The machinery of such an organization would be highly complicated, and before the wheels began to revolve the cost to the promoters would be very high—unless of course the government could be induced to meet the expense of establishing the ambitious undertaking.

The resources of governments in these days of economic insanity are considered limitless. Of course the abilities of governments to pay are limited by the abilities of taxpayers to pay, but the average taxpayer does not bother about that aspect of the matter; he seems to cherish a delusion that some other taxpayers will do all the paying. The government and thought they could dictate to the British grain merchants, millers and consumers the prices they should pay for their daily bread.

At the present time there is a tax of forty-two cents a bushel on all foreign wheat attempting to enter the country. Mr. Roosevelt purposes imposing a tax of forty-two cents a bushel on all the wheat grown in the country, which shall be paid by the millers and passed on to the consumers of bread and then turned back to the farmers with the actual price of wheat on the foreign market added. This, it is estimated, would give the farmers from seventy cents to a dollar a bushel for their wheat, depending upon the prices quoted in the foreign markets. Contingent upon this scheme there must be a certain quota of wheat produced in the United States, and contingent upon the quota there must be an understanding that the farmers must not attempt to take advantage of the situation by raising more than the allotted quota. And at the back of it all is the assumption that the taxpayer who is compelled to pay an increased price for his bread will not object to paying increased taxes for the benefit of the other fellow. There is still a latent current of belief that there is a natural law in the business world as there is a natural law in the physical world which cannot be safely flouted—and yet it appears that even the president of a great and seemingly intelligent nation is going to engage in the childish pastime of blowing bubbles.

Several years ago, the merchants agreed to not oppose a heavy increase in their trades licence fees, providing a substantial proportion of such increase would be earmarked for increasing tourist travel to Victoria through publicity advertising. The merchants of this city are employing a very large percentage of the citizens residing in the district, and were it not for the additional business which has been secured from the discharge of their duties to the public, many of them would have made the unemployment situation far worse.

In view of the important fact that the merchants are paying heavy trades licence fees, totaling approximately $115,000 annually, in addition to the regular taxation assessments on property and improvements, surely the question of the value of community advertising is a matter which should be left to their own discretion, and one which should not be converted into a political football by being subjected to a general referendum.

THE PUBLICITY BUREAU
Sir.—I have read with interest the numerous reports which have appeared in the press recently, pertaining to the annual grant to the publicity bureau and the supposed waste of public funds. Anyone who has visited the Old Country realizes the extensive advertising program which is undertaken by such famous resorts as Blackpool, Brighton, Bournemouth, Eastbourne, Hastings, Skegness and many other watering places, and in several instances the residents of such centres pay little or no rates as practically all of the funds required for civic purposes are raised through the sale of concessions to concessionaires who cater to the holiday makers.

The City Council and citizens of Bechill-on-Sea created an advertising fund before railways were prepared to acknowledge its right to rivalry to the then better known watering places such as Hastings and other South coast resorts. Today, Bechill-on-Sea is famous throughout the whole of the Western hemisphere. At this time, Victorians should not kill a goose that lays a golden egg, but should capitalize on what they have to sell in the shape of unexcelled scenery, and in order to sell, one must advertise. Several years ago, the merchants agreed to not oppose a heavy increase in their trades licence fees, in view of the understanding that a substantial portion of the increase would be granted to the publicity bureau for community advertising, and every City Council in power since 1922 has respected this understanding.

The merchants pay trades licence fees in addition to their ordinary land and improvement taxes, and most certainly should be granted a reduction if the publicity grant and the business derived from tourist travel is to be disturbed.

CIVIC ISSUES
Sir.—The mayor and aldermen sing chorals praises to themselves, pat each other on the back and say "everything in this garden is lovely." But the burdened taxpayer is waiting in the minor mode; for his taxes have been raised, and the city has been loaded with a burden of debt already almost unbearable. Many taxpayers are asking what right has the council to add a single unnecessary cent, much less five cents, to any taxpayer's bill in present depressed conditions. The air field referendum showed clearly that the city was overwhelmingly against an air field; yet the air field policy has been introduced and continued. If the air field proposition means business, let a private company undertake it; if pleasure, let the pleasure-seekers, not the city, pay for it. Besides, we live on an island, and a dreadful tragedy ought to have taught the council that a hydroplane, not an airplane, is the proper means of aerial transportation to this island. The city has a manager of a little elephant on its hands—why add another?

Then, again, why did the council should it so determine, 25 per cent to the improvement tax? This can only mean a further possible raising of the rate to 75 per cent instead of 50 per cent. As it was last year, 50 per cent, it was a very heavy burden. Many citizens were under the delusion that if power to borrow half a million were given, their taxes would not be raised. The argument was: "Grant the half million, otherwise your taxes will be raised." Aldermen and mayor, knowing the financial condition of the city, should have made a candid statement: "A rise is necessary; with half a million it will be much less." Had this statement been made, the referendum carried by a small majority would have been less favorable to them. The expenditure on the publicity bureau for the year 1931-32, so that under present conditions, when so many are suffering hardship, a referendum on its utility is not unduly unreasonable. If it can be shown that it is of value to the merchants and the city, it should be continued.

Some of the aldermen claim that they should be thanked for their services to the city. They have provided thanks for themselves to the extent of $600 per annum each. If the present aldermanic policy is continued, the taxpayers' hymn will be a verse from the Sixty-Third Psalm, slightly altered: "High is the rate we now possess, But higher it shall rise; Though what it shall hereafter be is hid from mortal eyes."

THE PUBLICITY BUREAU
Sir.—Certain arguments which have been advanced against the usefulness of the Publicity Bureau, and the misunderstanding which has apparently been developed in regard to the source of revenue for its upkeep, is, to say the least, becoming extremely annoying to those who are acquainted with facts and not rumors.

Several years ago, in order to develop business, our local merchants agreed to not oppose a heavy increase in their trades licence fees, providing a substantial proportion of such increase would be earmarked for increasing tourist travel to Victoria through publicity advertising.

The merchants of this city are employing a very large percentage of the citizens residing in the district, and were it not for the additional business which has been secured from the discharge of their duties to the public, many of them would have made the unemployment situation far worse.

ELECTION AMENITIES
Sir.—As a reader of the statements expressed in your columns by candidates for municipal positions, I cannot help noticing the destructive or defamatory attitude taken up by most of the candidates. I have read many statements by E. B. Andros, in addition to others, and it seems that the general plan is to attack the other fellow, and to point out how bad his administration has been. For many reasons this plan is absurd. Firstly, if a mayor or alderman has been unsuccessful during his term, undoubtedly the voters will have found out by the time his term has expired and will neglect him when he offers himself for re-election. Secondly, there are more sporting ways of conducting a campaign than by defaming the character of one's opponent. Again, a candidate should adopt the positive course of trying to obtain votes for himself, and not the negative one of trying to stop the other man obtaining any.

In this race for election, the idea is to induce people to vote for one. Very well—give them some reason why they should do so. Tell them what you can, not what the other man cannot do, or what you are going to do. People have come to take very little stock of what a candidate says he will do, because election promises have come to mean very little after a few months in office. Personally, I have no desire to vote for any man who continually runs down his opponent, but should only be interested in the man who could show me what he is actually capable of doing.

Any of these candidates who are in business know that the way to get business is not to "knock" one's competitor, but to show why one's own goods are superior. It is common knowledge that the salesman who disparages his competitor's goods is to be suspected of dealing in goods whose poor quality does not allow them to be sold on their merits. The same applies in this case. One becomes disgusted to read and hear day after day, the speeches of men who actually hope to control this city's affairs, and know of no better way to win votes than to disparage their competitors and to waste much time and space in asking stupid and tiresome rhetorical questions.

I think I may say that, with all due modesty, I am expressing the views of the community when I say that we want to hear from candidates for municipal office what they actually can accomplish and why they think they should be voted for. They give us facts about their opponents. We want facts about ourselves. We want proof of their ability to carry out such promises. Is this too much to hope for?

MAYORALTY CAMPAIGN
Sir.—The many letters appearing in the press abusing me for having told the truth and having exposed what is going on in the administration of civic affairs in the City Hall and other directions, only go to show that these men see their finish.

It is a curious circumstance that the majority of the letters emanate from gentlemen directly connected with real estate, and the sale of property who are interested in having the Publicity Bureau continued at the expense of those who, in a large measure, obtain no benefit whatsoever from the expenditure of the $25,000, but who furnish the money through the improvement and other taxes.

If I have done nothing else in this campaign, I consider that I am amply compensated, inasmuch that I have aroused public sentiment as to the serious condition existing in the city's affairs.

If the Mayor and aldermen had tackled the financial problems facing them at the beginning of 1932 with courage and determination to cut out the useless waste of public money involving thousands of dollars, to which I have drawn public attention, I certainly would not be offering myself as a candidate. But I realize that only drastic measures will suffice to bring these measures to a sense of their duty and make them understand that the people have at last been aroused and that they will no longer stand seeing their money thrown away on such useless expenditures as: Automobiles for men drawing amounts to $5,000, and telephones $1,200 per annum; two men drawing $8,000, which includes $1,160 for the use of two automobiles; a land department for selling reverted lots costing $3,971, including $300 for automobile, and many other glaring examples of frenzied finance. If the taxpayers think it wise, under the serious conditions existing, to re-elect the present Mayor and council, and they are the ones who pay. But I would respectfully call their attention to the fact that if Mayor Leeming is re-elected we have the statement made emphatically by him that the publicity grant will be continued, the expenditure on the airport, at a cost amounting to a large sum, will go on, in direct contradiction to the expressed wishes of the people who furnish the money and who voted against the by-law ten to one. That the improvement tax may be increased to 75 per cent, as recommended by the clique who, to save their speculations in vacant property, now want the home owner to foot the bill.

If, I repeat, you want this state of affairs to continue, vote for Mayor Leeming. If, on the other hand, you think that I can be of service to you by instituting a policy of cutting out any and all non-essentials, facing the future with courage and a determination to see that the interests of the home owner are protected, and that he is not made the goat to the big interests who at present dominate the situation, I offer my entire time and experience. I have not been a failure for myself. May I not be a success for you?

SEWER WARNING
ISSUED BY CITY

G. M. Irwin, Assistant City Engineer, Calls Attention to Gasoline Menace

A warning to citizens, and particularly operators of garages and service stations, against draining gasoline, oil or grease down sinks or wash basins into the city sewers was issued yesterday by G. M. Irwin, assistant city engineer. Mr. Irwin stated that a resume of the survey into the sewer explosions in Ottawa in 1929 had revealed an astounding amount of gasoline drainage into sewers had taken place. In one month seven stations sold for purely domestic purposes 187 gallons of gasoline, most of which was taken home in milk bottles. After cleaning, it was a frequent habit of housewives to drain the residue of gasoline down the kitchen sink. This fluid accumulated in sewers and caused explosions. While the city's sewer system is well ventilated and capable of giving a certain amount of resistance to explosions, the danger still existed of a similar catastrophe to the one which visited Montreal Wednesday night. While it could not be definitely ascertained, it is understood there are no regulations in force here against the discharge of gasoline or oil into city sewers. A further investigation will be made and regulations to cope with the situation probably will be introduced.

TWO CANDIDATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Two candidates for the three seats, which will be vacated on the Equilmalt Council, have announced their intentions of running in the municipal elections in January. Ex-

Councillor Charles H. Smith, a member of the council for seven years before 1931, and Councillor Robert A. Anderson, whose term expires this year, have both stated they will seek return to the board. The retiring members are Councillors Anderson, George Brooker and George Wise. Councillor Brooker has stated that he will not be in the field again this year, unless his present plans are altered before Christmas. Councillor Wise has made no statement, but it is understood he will not be a candidate.

William H. Sargent is Last Minute Entry in Aldermanic Contest

There were two outstanding features in the closing of nominations for civic elections at the City Hall yesterday. One was the last-minute announcement by William H. Sargent of his candidature for alderman, and the definite withdrawal of C. B. Crump, who had previously announced himself as a candidate for mayor.

Only four papers were filed yesterday, all other candidates having given their nomination papers to the city clerk prior to nomination day.

FILE PAPERS

Those who filed their papers yesterday were: Mayor David Leeming, who was proposed by Robert A. C. Dewar, of 1218 Johnson Street, and seconded by James Forman, of 1000 Terrace Avenue. William Charles Moresby, K.C., 624 Trutch Street, barrister-at-law, proposed by Arthur Richard Wolfenden, 622 Head Street, and seconded by Walter Ernest Steneland, 1707 Richmond Avenue.

Walter Inward, 1446 Lang Street, proposed by G. M. Handley, 3054 Cedar Hill Road, and seconded by Henry Hunter, 1471 Edgeware Road. William Henry Sargent, 1515 Vining Street, proposed by David Parsell, 1722 Stanley Avenue, and seconded by Robert John Jones, 1424 Begbie Street.

TWO-FOUR ASPIRANTS Entrance of William Sargent into the aldermanic contest brings the total list of those seeking council honors to eighteen, and the total number of candidate to twenty-four. There are two mayoralty candidates, Mayor Leeming and E. B. Andros, and four seeking positions on the school board.

LORD'S DAY ACT

Sir—In your issue of November 27, Mr. A. B. Sanders returns to his attack upon the clergy under the charge of intolerance, and particularly cites the recent Symphony Society incident in Vancouver as an illustration of intolerance. But in the course of his letter he displays considerable ignorance of the actual issues involved, and much intolerance against those who may disagree with him.

In the first place, permit me to say that his attack upon the Lord's Day Act of Canada reveals his ignorance of the spirit and intent of that law. That law is upon the Statutes of Canada, not because Canada is a "priest-ridden" country, but in response to a Dominion-wide movement in which the labor organizations of each province in Canada participated quite as freely as church-going citizens. Its purpose is to safeguard Sunday as the national day of rest for Canada. It is not an act to compel the religious observance of Sunday. As a matter of fact, there is no law in Canada to compel church attendance or religious observance of Sunday. The law seeks only to eliminate unnecessary business and toll from our Sundays in Canada, leaving to the individual citizen the matter of the personal use of the day, providing only that no citizen shall interfere with his fellow citizen in his freedom from toll or the quiet and restfulness of the day unnecessarily. The Lord's Day Act of Canada was made for Canada's citizens, and not for the clergy.

To permit the operation of commercialized amusement and entertainment on Sundays would directly involve unnecessary labor for many citizens, and open the way for the operation of business on a larger scale on Sundays, thereby nullifying the good intent of the Act. In the effort to check this undesirable trend, the Lord's Day Act provides that concerts shall not be held on Sundays where admission fees are charged. When the representatives of the Symphony Society notified the police of their intention to sell admission tickets for their Sunday concert they were informed that such sales were illegal. When they persisted in their sales on the Sunday of the concert, the police, in the regular performance of their duties, gathered the evidence and submitted it with the application for a fiat. When the Attorney-General was assured by representatives of the Symphony Society that such sales would not occur again, they acknowledged their fault. That has closed that particular incident.

In all of these efforts to secure the recognition of the provisions of the Lord's Day Act, there has been no intolerance evidenced. If the Symphony Society had been satisfied with the passing of the plate there could not have been any objection raised, even though the concert was held on Sunday. The Lord's Day Act of Canada does not give the Church any monopoly of Sunday entertainment as Mr. Sanders alleges. Nor have the clergy any opportunity to use any law to compel Mr. Sanders to attend church at any time. It is evident also from Mr. Sanders' comments upon the text of Scripture he quotes, that the clergy have no monopoly in the misuse of such texts. GEO. G. WEBBER, 3514 West 36th Avenue, Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 29, 1932.

"FARLEY VOOT"

A girl who had picked up a few French phrases brought them into her talk on every possible occasion. Entering a butcher's shop one day, she inquired if he had any bon-vivant. "Bonned what, madam?" asked the butcher, puzzled. "Bon-vivant," she repeated. "That's the French for good liver. You know!"

ST. NICHOLAS TO MEET CHILDREN

Kiddies Will Attend Reception at Capitol for Santa Claus Tomorrow

Santa Claus will make his first appearance in Victoria tomorrow morning when nearly 3,000 children are expected to greet him at the Capitol Theatre. The reception, which is being arranged by the Hudson's Bay Company, is to take the form of an entertainment in which the pupils of Miss Violet Fowkes, assisted by two well-known comedians, will present a potted pantomime version of "The Babes in the Wood."

Among the novelty dances will be a military tap, sailor's hornpipe, fairy dance, bunny hop, bell boy tap, doll dance and teddy bear acrobatic dance.

TO INTRODUCE SONG
The two bold bad robbers after being reformed by the good fairy will introduce one of the newest song hits in which the whole of the youthful audience is expected to join.

Two uproariously funny talkie pictures will precede the presentation of the pantomime.

The feature of the entertainment, of course, will be the arrival of Santa Claus, who has sent word through the Hudson's Bay Company that he is eagerly looking forward to seeing Victoria children once again. Thanks to the long distance radiophone, hundreds of little tots have already heard his voice and his cheery promises to be good to them this Christmas.

TWO PERFORMANCES
There will be two performances on Saturday morning, the first at 9 o'clock and the second at 10:30. Parents are requested to see that their children are given right colored tickets for the respective performances.

Blue tickets are for the first performance, and red for the second. Adults' tickets are yellow for the first and white for the second.

Children unable to attend the Capitol Theatre reception are invited to meet Santa Claus on Saturday afternoon at "The Bay" toy circus.

Capacity Audience at Free Evening Concert

Royal Victoria Theatre Crowded Last Evening for Closing Programme of "Living Music Day" by Band and Orchestra

A capacity audience, in expressively appreciative mood, greeted the musicians who took part in the "Living Music Day" free concert at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening.

Like the rest of the day's events, sponsored by the Musicians' Union and The Daily Colonist, the entertainment demonstrated the undeniable popularity of music, a fact which Mayor Leeming commented upon when he addressed the gathering at the beginning of the programme. Introduced by Harry Ball, president of the Victoria Musicians' Union, His Worship made some apt comparisons between "living" music and the "canned" variety.

TWO UNITS PERFORM
The programme was a generous one, those contributing being the Brass Band of the 1st Battalion (15th C.E.F.) Canadian Scottish, under Bandmaster Miller, and the sixty-piece Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra under Alfred Prescott.

There was a distinct individual character in each which made it immensely popular with the big audience, and several encores were demanded. Bandmaster Miller's band opened the programme with Zieles' "March Corelli," followed by Von Weber's "Eurasian," where the clarinets did noticeably fine work. After the Tiersa "Rearia" came the most popular number of the section of the entertainment, Bandman J. H. Jones' piccolo solo, "Deep Blue Sea" (Brewer), which had a clamorously enthusiastic reception, the encore, very appropriately being "Pep." The last two numbers by the band were Debussy's intermezzo, "Pas des Fleurs," and Friedman's

Debtors Must Pay Says Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the course of an article entitled, "Your New National Leadership," appearing in the January issue of The Cosmopolitan Magazine, says: "Debtors to the United States by foreign Governments must be paid." "It is sound common sense to assist your debtors in every way, but there is neither practicability nor honor in cancellation," he continued. "The stabilization of world finance can best be achieved by a clear understanding of just obligations."

REALTY BOARD TO MEET TODAY

The Victoria Real Estate Board will meet in Spencer's dining-room today to consider among other things two notices of motion. One of these stands in the name of James Forman and has for its object the asking of the City Council to make a move in the direction of gaining power to amend the statutes so as to obtain relief on the assessments on corner lots and irregular parcels of land from the excessive charges which have now to be levied with respect to boulevard maintenance.

The other notice stands in the name of Alfred Carmichael and urges action along the line of a return to the bonus system for the redemption of panthers as being in the interests of owners of sheep.

"SAGITTARIUS" If December 2 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:20 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Stand now, you may find yourself completely reversing it on the 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger pe-

At the Theatres

CAPITOL "Speak Easily," now at the Capitol Theatre, is a Broadway musical comedy, based on the story of "Footlights," by the famous Broadway producer, the late Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante heads the supporting cast as the show's piano player, Ruth Evelyn plays the heroine, and Thelma Todd is cast as a seductive musical comedy star who tries to do the innocent professor wrong. Also on the same bill is "The Night Club Lady," featuring Adolphe Menjou.

COLUMBIA Richard Cromwell, a twenty-two-year-old screen actor, is an accomplished painter of the modern school, and has supplied interior decorations for the homes of many Hollywood stars, including that of Colleen Moore. Cromwell is now appearing on the screen of the Columbia Theatre in "Tom Brown of Culver," the Universal drama which was filmed almost in its entirety at the famous Culver Military Academy in Indiana.

DOMINION "Rubber suspenders" for microphones was one of the novel touches of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer sound engineers during the filming of "Red Dust," drama of Indo-China, featuring Clark Gable and Jean Harlow, which is now at the Dominion Theatre. They were used to obtain special effects, where the "mikes" had to be lifted over large swinging "punks," or tropical fans. A long piece of rubber was suspended from the "mike" boom to the microphone itself.

EMPIRE One of the great characters of "Mischief," the Ralph Lynn picture, is the fidelity of the countryside scenes. Kenish beauty treasures have been made considerable use of by Jack Raymond, and the character of "Dulcy" is a comedy of small-town life with Miss Dressler and Miss Moran as rival mothers-in-law.

PLAYHOUSE In spite of the fact that Allan Dinehart, a well-known stage actor, has been on the screen only since last May, he will have seven pictures to his credit with "Street of Women," the Warner Bros. picture, starring Kay Francis, at the Playhouse Theatre. Allan has the role of Larry Baldwin in this adaptation of Polan Banks' novel of New York society and business.

MARIE DRESSLER AND POLLY MORAN COMING

It's no news when they move a movie troupe to a house in the country—but it's news when they move the house in the country to the movie troupe, if the old rule about the man who bites a dog still holds good. This bit of cinematic housemoving was accomplished during the filming of the latest Marie Dressler-Polly Moran comedy, "Prosperity," which will be shown starting tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

The plot called for the popular comedy pair to do "location work" in the environs of an old farmhouse. Then, instead of returning to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to build interiors matching the location scenes, Director Samuel Wood arranged for the purchase of the quaint house and took it along. Thus the actual interior as well as the exterior was photographed.

"Prosperity" is a comedy of small-town life with Miss Dressler and Miss Moran as rival mothers-in-law fighting over the affairs of their married children and grandchildren.

Arrangements are now being made by the lodge to hold the annual Christmas entertainment for the children on December 17.

actor-managers in their successful Ambassadors Theatre engagement. Miss Darrell is a perfect type of English beauty, and speaks with that pleasant enunciation, always a source of delight to hear and one of the reasons that have made English players so popular in Canada. Starting her career as a dancer, Miss Darrell, due to her breaking a cartilage in her leg, was forced to turn her attention to the dramatic stage, and quickly came to the attention of London managers for her clever work in "Peter Pan," her first engagement. Her ability to cry gained her many leading tragedy parts in London, notably that with Ernest Truex in "Many Waters," and Robert Lorraine in "The Father," and more recently with Colin Clive in Galsworthy's "Loyalties," in which she was appearing at the Garrick Theatre, London, before joining Maurice Colbourne and Barry Jones.

C. L. Smith Is New Leader of Lodge

Brother C. L. Smith was elected noble grand of Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I.O.O.F., at a recent meeting. Bro. J. W. Collins was chosen vice-grand, Bro. D. Dewar, P.G., recording secretary; Bro. Thomas Burgess, P.G., financial secretary, and Bro. W. Adams, P.G., treasurer.

Arrangements are now being made by the lodge to hold the annual Christmas entertainment for the children on December 17.

SAYS TRAINING STARTS WRONG

British Writer Says That Instrument and Not Voice Leads Choirs

Clement F. Rogers in "The Musical Times," London, thinks that though much good work is being done for the improvement of church music (Anglican), the reformers are beginning at the wrong end in England.

"Almost invariably we start wrong in our musical technique," he argues. "The choirmaster is usually the organist, so we begin with the organ instead of the voice. The singers are made to accompany the organ, instead of the voices being accompanied by the instrument. Naturally the victory lies with the wood and metal pipes rather than with the delicate cords of flesh and fibre. The organist has only to pull out more stops and growl the voices and secure victory in the contest. 'Louder, gentlemen, louder,' a famous conductor is said to have cried to his orchestra, 'I can still hear the brass!'"

POOR CHOICE

"In our choice of music the case is the same. We begin with harmony in spite of the fact that we have no alto (for a boy with a half-broken voice is not an alto) and very few, if any, tenors; whereas, of course, we should begin with a unison. We try to sing Anglican chants—the product of a long, if not always good, tradition of singing by balanced double-choir of trained, professional, picked, flexible voices—and ignore plain song with its simpler natural rhythm, its smaller compass, and its avoidance of intervals greater than a third, which render it more suitable for congregational singing.

"Finally, we start with singing before we have learned to speak. We expect people to sing in time and tune before they have learned to speak together with the natural rhythm of our speech and with the natural music of the voice. It is at the said service that the foundation must be laid, out of unison that harmony should arise.

GO SLOWLY

"What are we to do then? Begin at once, but go slowly. Don't upset existing choirs. They have been doing loyal service and have every right to be considered. Let us begin with a week-night service, say, on Wednesday or Friday, and let the congregation learn to say and sing the service without any special choir, or with a sung Eucharist at 9:30 or 10 a.m., at which Merbecke is sung properly.

Arrangements are now being made by the lodge to hold the annual Christmas entertainment for the children on December 17.

Returns From Far East

GRATIFIED with the results of the Presidential election, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war-time President of the United States, arrived in San Francisco last week aboard the liner Asama Maru. Mayor Rossi, of San Francisco, is seen presenting orchids to Mrs. Wilson.

achieve immortality on an even more modest allowance of tones. Was "The Londonderry Air" primarily intended for singing? Do not its wide range and long phrases suggest an instrumental rather than a vocal origin?

"If a folk-tune may thus be fine, and yet not suitable for use in a hymnal, what is to be said in favor of those that have no claim beyond folkiness? Hymnals are getting better and better, but the perfect hymnbook will not appear until tunes are judged (as everything else is, or should be, judged) on their merits.

The young scion was threatened with an action for "breach." "Any letters?" asked the family lawyer. "Restless of them," admitted the disconsolate young man. "What a pity," said the man of law, "that you'd never heard the old adage: 'Do right and fear no man; don't write and fear no woman!'"

THINKS BRITAIN NEEDS RESPIRE

Financier of Shanghai Believes That United States Would Be Reasonable

Noel W. Hickling, a financier of Shanghai, China, holds the opinion that Great Britain needs a few years' relief from pressing financial demands. A moratorium for three years, in his opinion, would be of inestimable advantage in allowing that country to get off to a good start again. He has just returned from London, where he and Mrs. Hickling have been on a visit, and is awaiting the sailing of the S.S. Empress of Asia, when they start back to Shanghai. They are at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Hickling points out that the people in the Old Country are carrying a load in taxation that is too heavy to expect any people to bear. His visit to the United States has indicated to him that the best thinking people of that country are not anxious to be unreasonable with regard to the Old Land. They are, on the contrary, he thinks, prepared to adjust matters so that the British Government would not be forced to a point which is unreasonable to expect compliance.

HEAVY LEVIES

It is not to be expected that the British people can continue to carry heavier loads when they are at present paying 25 per cent of their income in taxes. In addition to this, there are heavy levies when it comes to the matter of death dues, which deplete the estates to a large extent.

Speaking of Shanghai, Mr. Hickling says that in spite of the troubles which have befallen that city, Shanghai is still playing a most important part in the trade of China. It is bound to be so

TOD MORGAN WINS DECISION OVER ALBIE DAVIES

Maroons, Ottawa and Rangers Win Close Games in National Hockey League

Canadiens Beaten By Montreal Team In Feature Tussle

Paul Haynes Stars in Maroons' Overtime Victory Over Flying Frenchmen, 5-4—Senators Score 4-3 Decision Over New York Americans—Patrick's Crew Noses Out Detroit, 4-2

MONTREAL, Dec. 1 (CP).—Paul Haynes, minute man, scored the winning goal for the Maroons in a close overtime battle with the Canadiens, 5-4. Haynes scored the goal in the 11th minute of overtime, after a long battle in the penalty box. The Maroons had led 3-2 in the third period, but the Canadiens scored twice in the fourth period to tie the game. The overtime period was a wild affair, with both teams trading blows. Haynes' goal was the only one of the overtime period.

With only a few seconds of the third period to go, and Maroons trailing by a single goal, Haynes flicked the puck into the net on a triple assist and forced a 4-4 tie. The overtime period was 9 minutes 35 seconds and apparently destined to leave the score deadlocked, when Haynes blazed the puck into the cage behind Hainsworth for the second time, and presented Maroons with a victory.

It was a rugged game from the start, and a furious pace was maintained till late in the overtime. Cyclone Wentworth was also a hero from the Maroons' standpoint. The big ex-Chicago stalwart rang up two goals. Baily Northcott scored the other Maroons' tally.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP).—Ottawa Senators pounded out a 4-3 victory over New York Americans in a close overtime battle.

Senators scored three goals in the third period. For over fifty minutes the Senators were in the upper hand. They were ahead 2-1, going into the third period, but lost the game when Eddie Convey and Vernon Ayres scored in the overtime period.

Senators scored two goals in less than a minute, the first on a double assist from Frankie Finnigan, Convey, Weiland, and the second on assists from Finnigan and Hil Milks.

The Americans had a decided edge on the play during the first period. They outshot the Senators, but they could not beat Alex Connell.

RANGERS COME THROUGH
DETROIT, Dec. 1 (CP).—New York Rangers kept a long distance scoring record intact against their former goalie here, tonight, and downed the Detroit Red Wings, 4-2, in a stirring National League hockey match before 9,000 spectators.

The final New York goal brought a heavy shower of peanuts and paper, and caused delay in the game. It was scored while Doug Young, Detroit defenseman lay unconscious on the ice after a passing shot with Bun Cook. The two were away on their goalward dash almost at the time Young crashed heavily into the boards. Doug was able to return to the game in its last minutes.

TURVILLE TO TAKE FIELD FOR FINAL

Injured Tigers' Great Kicker to Play Against Roughriders

HAMILTON, Dec. 1 (CP).—With one eye trained on the hobbling figure of Frank Turville, the galloping football king of the Law Courts, Hamilton's gridiron faithful today waited for the foe from the West to put in an appearance.

Al Ritchie, thin-faced master mind of football on the Prairies, is to bring his Regina Roughriders to town tomorrow morning, more than twenty-four hours before they line up against Hamilton Tiger in the classic sectional battle that will decide the senior Canadian championship for 1932.

Turville, long-limbed barometer who played the leading role in every Tiger triumph this season, helped them over the rough spots in the dash through the Big Four, then in topping Samia Imperials and University of Toronto in the Eastern playoffs, limped cheerfully around and announced he would be "in" for the Saturday against Roughriders.

Turville's ankle was badly sprained in the varsity tussle last Saturday. If he plays at all, it is unlikely to be for more than a few minutes.

RIDERS IN SHAPE
Roughriders are in perfect shape for the final, and so are Tigers with the exception of Turville. Coach Billy Hughes has given no hint who will do Hamilton's punting, but he is almost certain to go to Ray Broadway and Denny Gardner. Gardner also will do most of the passing. A form of attack Hughes may rely on more than he has all season.

The Roughriders are confident they can stop whatever form of attack the Tigers may use. They have knocked down the passes of Montreal's Hal Beyer, and they don't expect Curly Shaw to throw them any more accurately than the big boy from Syracuse. The tankmen have been given a pretty thorough mauling by Montreal, Argonauts and Sarnia and Varsity, but they expect to stand up, and take plenty more, if necessary.

Sportsmen in East Favoring Amateur Change

HALIFAX, Dec. 1.—The proposal to break the Simon-Pure barriers and permit professionals in one branch of sport to compete in all other branches under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union seems to be finding favor in the Maritime Provinces.

The proposal is sponsored by the Saskatchewan branch of the C.A.A.U. and promises to provide plenty of fireworks at the gathering of Canadian amateurs at Ottawa this month.

A resolution of the Saskatchewan branch, which would give effect to the plan, is one of fifty-two on the agenda for the convention.

Today The Halifax Herald reported that of nineteen prominent Maritime Provinces sportsmen questioned, fifteen favored the plan and four opposed it. Most of the sportsmen interviewed represented Nova Scotia clubs. Four were Prince Edward Islanders, who divided two and two.

J.B.A.A. Play To Draw With Colwood Squad

After one of the closest games played at the Gorge Gymnasium in recent years, J.B.A.A. Seniors played to a draw with Colwood in the feature tussle on the exhibition card. The final score was twenty all.

J.B.A.A. Women won a close decision from Colwood four six in the opener, 24-16, while J.B.A.A. senior "C" lost to the K. of P. by a 22-12 score.

Following the games, the visiting quintettes were entertained at a dance and social. The following committee was in charge of the dance: Misses G. Taylor, L. Spark, Chuck Chapman, Wally Ruppe, Ari Chapman and Dan Moses.

FOOTBALL LINE-UPS
Escott—Barker, Noble, March, Edwards, R. Stewart, W. De Costa, Pepin, McAllister, Sweeney, Williams and Evans.

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER
LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP).—Yeovil and Peters defeated Dartford 4-2 today in a replay of the first round of the English Soccer Cup, and Queen's Park Rangers defeated Merthyr Town 3-1.

Murray Marley and Leggett Added to Representative XI

MURRAY Marley, goalie for the Victoria West eleven, and George Leggett, sturdy Saanich Thistles full-back, have been placed on the representative squad which will leave tonight to meet St. Saviours in Vancouver tomorrow in an intercity fixture in the Pacific Coast Football League. Marley will be on hand in case anything happens to Victoria's regular goalie, Louis De Costa, while Leggett is taking Joe Crowe's place as reserve fullback. Crowe is working and is unable to get away for the trip. All players are asked to meet at the C.P.R. dock at 11:30 sharp.

REBBONS WILL MEET 5TH IN FEATURE TILT

Undefeated Quintette Faces Tough Assignment Tonight at High Gymnasium

C.P.S. TO FACE BEAVERS SQUAD

Victoria's four senior "A" basketball teams will be seen in action this evening at the High School gymnasium in the Victoria and District League. The card of three games is expected to be one of the best of the present schedule and should attract a large crowd. Standard Steam Laundry women will appear in the opener against Dad's Cookies, while C.P.S. and Beavers will hook up in the second tussle. Undefeated Blue Ribbons will meet the 5th Regiment in the feature game, one which will probably settle the first half championship in the senior "A" division. Tommy Macdonald will handle the games, the first of which will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Ribbons are leading the league with four straight victories and will have their regular quintette on deck with hopes of making it five in a row at the expense of the Gunners. Joe Ross and Tommy Little will share guard duties along with Chuck Chapman, while Muzz Patrick, Art Chapman and Johnny Craig will start as forwards, and Claude Shuggett and A. McKinnon will be ready for relief duty when called upon. The Fifth will be as strong as usual, with Alex Cudlip, "Red" Martin, Harold Shepherd, Lynn Patrick, Ray Simpson, Buzz Brown and Doug Peden in uniform.

C.P.S. and Beavers will be at full strength and both will be in search of victory. The lumbermen trimmed Beavers in their last fixture after a great exhibition. C.P.S. will have Butler, Riddle, Wright, Skillings, Harding, Busell, Caddell, McKenzie and Davis on deck, while Beavers will depend on Levy, Fraser, Turman, Moore, Goldsmith, Preston, F. McDonald, Robertson and I. McDonald.

EDMONTON SUPERIORS WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT

OXFORD, Eng., Dec. 1 (CP).—Edmonton Superiors tonight defeated Oxford University, 2-0, to win the fourth straight game of their hockey tour of the United Kingdom.

In the closest match the Canadians had so far on this side of the Atlantic, Oxford stayed off their scoring efforts until the last period, when Gordon Walker and Bill Montgomery tallied in succession.

board registered the first twelve runs.

W. M. Woodfull, Australia's

captain, had scored seven in 38 minutes when he swung at a higher bouncer ball from Voe and was taken by Ames at the wicket, with the score at 22 runs for one wicket.

W. H. Ponsford opened very cautiously, but it was his hit to leg off Larwood that sent up a half century after 75 minutes of play. At the lunch interval Pon-sford had scored 32 and Fingleton 13.

—The cricket classics, the test matches between England and Australia, open here tomorrow, and on the eve of the first game

Australia has been dealt a severe blow. Don Bradman, celebrated

Aussie batsman who has broken most cricket records, has been forced out by illness. Bradman, however, may get into some of the remainder of the five matches which will decide whether Australia is to hold the mythical

"ashes" she won on the English playing fields two seasons ago.

Of the 124 test matches played,

M.C.C. have won 47 and Australia has won 50, the remaining 27 being drawn. England has had more success in Australia, for she has won 28 games played there and only 19 games played in England.

ENGLISH XI FIT

In any event, Sydney becomes the centre of the cricket world as the notables of the touring M.C.C.

team, fit after a month's campaigning in exhibition games on Australian fields, and a strong Australian eleven take the field for the opening match.

M.C.C. have not lost any of their friendly games, but came within an inch of defeat by an All-Australian eleven. Upon Bradman was based the whole Australian offensive.

The youthful Don amazed experts in England by batting an average of 139 in innings in the five test matches of 1930. In last year's

South African test series he had an average of 201.

The Australian team will not be caught "flat-footed," however, for in the balance of their selected players they have a great combination of youth and experience.

There are eight members of the victorious team of 1930, and three others who have proved their worth in the South African series. The remaining man, Lile Nagel, a newcomer to first class cricket, may well prove a thorn in the side of the Englishmen. A bowler of remarkable accuracy, with moderate speed, Nagel took eight M.C.C.

wickets last week for Australia with a loss of only 32 runs. This was on a very tricky pitch, however, and it remains to be seen whether he can repeat.

D. R. Jardine, an old Oxford Blue, captains the English side. He has played against Australia many times since 1921 and during the 1928 tour of Australia had six centuries. The M.C.C. side is a bevy of spendthrifts, headed by the Nabab of Pataudi, brilliant Indian student at Oxford, who holds the Varsity record of 228 not out against Cambridge; R. E. S. Wyatt, who has a record of more than 1,000 runs in each of the last six seasons, and H. W. Sutcliffe, famous first-wicket batsman, who has played in eighteen out of the last twenty matches with Australia.

Maurice Tate, noted Sussex vel-eran, has scored 1,000 runs in exhibition games. He has played from Nottinghamshire, and Hedley

Verity will bear the brunt of the

M.C.C. bowling.

With the exception of the day that Nagel ran berserk and took eight wickets for 32 runs, the visiting M.C.C. at no time were hard-drawn. Against Australian teams

they were decidedly ahead of both a West Australian team and a combined Australian team on two occasions when the matches were drawn. Against South Australia

they compiled 634 for nine against 290 and 216 for the Australian team. Victoria was also decisively trounced, the M.C.C. getting 408 for nine against 231 and 94.

Security Prices Turn Higher at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP).—A good rally by wheat coincident with further recovery of sterling exchange found the stock market responsive today and share prices moved higher.

Trading was hardly animated, but the tone was better throughout the day than the session with the result that net gains of 1 to 3 points were fairly numerous. The market still looked highly professional, only this time shorts were repurchasing. Sales totaled 748,550 shares.

Steel issues were rather sluggish. Steel common's net advance of half a point felt considerably under the average gain for industrial although the senior issue was up a couple of points. Case and Harvester reflected the stronger grain quotations, while American Tobacco "B" recovered about half its Wednesday loss. American Can, American Telephone and Telegraph, National Biscuit, North American and Consolidated Gas were up 1/2 net. Rail displayed little enthusiasm.

The bond market steadied today under the cheerful influence of the other sharp rally of the British pound sterling. A few of the low-priced railway bonds came back with advances of a point or more, while the United States Government list turned active in late trading with liquidation in the treasury. Sales totaled $8,588,000, par value.

Gains of around 4 points were recorded by issues of Australia, Brisbane City and Sydney City, while loans of New South Wales were more than 3. The largest turnover in this market was in British 5 1/2's, which advanced 1 1/4 points. Rates of about a point were held by obligations of Canada, Argentina and Germany.

Railway issues that recovered 1 or more points included some of Canadian Pacific, Canadian National, Canadian Northern, Illinois Central. The utilities and industrials were a trifle irregular.

Federal bonds were dull most of the session.

Prices Nearly Cent Higher at Winnipeg—Trading Tinged With Optimism

WINNIPEG, Dec. 1 (CP).—A more optimistic note tinged trading on the world's wheat markets today, and with export figures here boosted over the 1,000,000 bushel mark.

Wheat prices held steady on the Grain Exchange to close 3-4 to 7-8 higher.

Based on bullish sentiment at Chicago seemed to be in connection with the war debt settlement, but Argentine news tended to boost the price.

MEDDLESOME INTERFERENCE IN ABDOMINAL PAIN

Notwithstanding all our knowledge of the dangers of delaying operation in cases of acute appendicitis and also of obstruction of the bowel, the percentage of deaths from these two conditions has actually increased during the past ten years.

It must be admitted that this is not the fault of the surgeons who perform the operations, because the operative ability of the surgeons of today is at the highest point in history.

Dr. W. H. Parsons tells us that if the death rate from these conditions is to be reduced it must be done by lack of meddlesome interference in cases that will really require an operation anyway.

What is meant by "meddlesome interference?" This simply means that when there is an acute pain in the abdomen no treatment of any kind should be given.

for this purpose. But if the pain in the abdomen is due to an inflamed appendix, or an obstruction in the bowel, then a purgative medicine is the most dangerous kind of "meddlesome interference" and is the cause of a large percentage of deaths.

The lesson then is quite plain. In all cases of abdominal pain no medicine should be given to relieve pain and thus hide the symptoms, and no purgative should be given which might cause a break or rupture in the appendix or intestine, thus setting up an inflammation of the peritoneum—covering of the bowel and lining of the abdomen—which often results in death.

Wait for the doctor before giving any treatment.

Dr. W. H. Parsons tells us that if the death rate from these conditions is to be reduced it must be done by lack of meddlesome interference in cases that will really require an operation anyway.

What is meant by "meddlesome interference?" This simply means that when there is an acute pain in the abdomen no treatment of any kind should be given.

As you know the first thought when a pain occurs is to try to get relief, and a pain-killing drug is given. This means that as the drug kills or deadens the pain the condition can be growing gradually worse and the patient doesn't know it.

SENTENCED FOR CHEQUE FRAUDS

Eddie Rose, colored, Given Six Months' Hard Labor by County Court Judge

Eddie Rose, colored, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor by Judge Peter S. Langman in County Court here yesterday after being found guilty of obtaining goods and money to the value of $11 by false pretences.

H. A. Beckwith appeared for the Crown, and Rose was not represented by counsel. The accused was arrested by city police officers on the complaint of O. H. Dorman, who had cashed a cheque for Rose which afterwards was found to be worthless.

Rose maintained he accepted the cheque from a taxi driver and was told it "was as good as gold." He went to a bank to cash it and was told the maker of the cheque had no account. Rose then went to Mr. Dorman's store and cashed the cheque with the purchase of a small quantity of goods. Mr. Dorman testified that Rose had told him it was for wages.

The accused is now serving a term of thirty days for obtaining lodgings by false pretences, and his sentence of six months will start from yesterday, the judge ordered.
